COMMUNITY CONNECTION

Baylor Professor Speaks on Work-Family Balance Research during April Education Event

Family supportive policies at the workplace can help improve job satisfaction and commitment, reduce turnover, and impact your employee's health. Dr Emily Hunter, Associate Professor of Management at the Hankamer School of Business at Baylor University, is an avid researcher on employee work-family issues and presented research at the April Educational Event held last week. Preceding her luncheon presentation, seventy-five members took part in two additional hours of education in two separate tracks for General HR and Talent Management. This expanded offering is designed to allow members more flexibility and ease in accumulating recertification credits or HR education. Participate in the three hours of education at our June event.

Save $25 on New Membership This Month

DallasHR is your local choice for premier education and connections to the human resource industry. Spring has sprung so use promo code "SPRINGTIME" when you join as a new member and receive $25 off your first year. Offer valid until April 30.

Member Benefit

Looking for a summer intern to support your HR Office? You can post a complimentary internship description on the DallasHR Job Board. Share your knowledge with our future HR professionals this summer and consider an HR intern for your office.

Thanks to our Volunteers

DallasHR celebrates our volunteers every week but this week is special. To all of our dedicated volunteers, Happy National Volunteer Week. We can't do it without you. Thank you for your service!
